Western Union leverages the industry's only fully-integrated partner management platform to ensure that partners like you are equitably rewarded for the value they provide. Join today to begin.

What is Partner Marketing?

Partner marketing, commonly referred to as affiliate marketing, is a performance-based marketing strategy that allows publishers to earn commissions by promoting products or services from their favorite brands. Publishers that join brands' partner programs gain access to unique tracking links to be shared on their websites, social media channels, email and more. When a consumer clicks on a publisher's affiliate link and makes a purchase, the partner earns a pre-determined commission on that transaction.

Partnership marketing is a $15B industry representing 16% of all ecommerce sales. The channel's ability to find and convert target audiences at scale incentivise 81% of brands and 84% of partners to take advantage of the channel as an acquisition and monetization vehicle-benefits that support testing new markets, regional expansions and reaching high-intent audiences at a controlled cost.
